CHAMPAGNE AND SPARKLING WINE

Champagne is actually made from only three grape varieties, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir (pee-no n'wahr) and Pinot Meunier (pee-no mon-yer).

Champagne is a place/region of France, hence Sparkling Wine from any other region cannot be called Champagne. The name Champagne can only be used to refer to wine produced in Champagne region of France.

WHITE WINE

SAUVIGNON BLANC

Sauvignon Blanc is crisp and fresh grape varietal with great tropical fruit salad character about it. A great wine to just quench your thirst, or can be a good wine paired with seafood, salad and poultry dishes.

CHARDONNAY

Chardonnay is a green-skinned grape variety used to make white wine. It is believed to have originated in the burgundy wine region of eastern France. There are two distinctive styles of Chardonnay, the rich buttery meursault and the new world wines which have more tropical fruit flavor. Chardonnay will pair well with poultry dishes, pork, seafood or recipes that have a heavy cream or butter base.

RIESLING

Riesling is often a confusing grape variety. It can be made sweet, though generally it will be very dry and clean finishing. It is the king of German wines and was originally planted there. The most popular flavors in Riesling are green apple and citrus. Riesling also has a great home in Alsace in France on the German border which produces amazing wines excellent with salads and lighter meat dishes.

BLENDING AND OTHER VARIETALS

Wine is blended from different grapes in order to add more complexity to the flavor and texture of a wine. The goal of blending wine is more to balance out the flavor characteristics. Alternative blends are created in an attempt to produce a new and exciting wine. Popular varietals such as Semillon, Pinot Grigio & Chenin Blanc can either be blended or enjoyed as a single varietal wine.

RED WINE

CABERNET SAUVIGNON

Cabernet sauvignon often referred to as the "king of red wine grapes," originally from Bordeaux. Cabernet sauvignon grapes tend to favor warmer climates and are often an ideal wine for aging, with 5-10 years being optimal for the maturation process to peak because Cabernets take a bit longer to reach maturation. This allows their flavors to mellow, creating a softer finish. Cabernet Sauvignon goes well with red meats, flavorful and heartier pastas, lamb, strong flavored cheese and dark chocolates.

Familia Torres, Mas La Plana, Penedes, Spain	28000
De Martino "Legado", Cabernet Sauvignon, Maipo Valley, Chile	17000
Domaines Barons De Rothschild (Lafite)-Los Vascos, Cabernet Sauvignon, Chile	9000
Isla De Maipu, Cabernet Sauvignon, Central Valley, Chile	7500

MERLOT

Merlot is a red wine grape that is used as both a blending grape and for varietal wines. Merlot-based wines usually have medium body with hints of berry, plum, and black currant. It's softness and fleshiness, combined with its earlier ripening, makes merlot a popular grape for blending with the sterner later-ripening cabernet sauvignon, which tends to be higher in tannin.

Domaine Montrose, Pays D'oc, Cotes De Thongue, France	7000
Pasqua, Delle Venezie, Merlot, Veneto, Italy	6200
Torresella, Merlot, Veneto, Italy	6800
Casillero Del Diablo, Merlot, Chile	7500
Mannara, Merlot, Sicily, Italy	7000

SHIRAZ

Shiraz or Syrah is known for its spicy blackberry, plum and peppery flavors. Often there are additional notes of licorice, bitter chocolate and mocha. Shiraz is affected by the growing temperature- warmer climates bring out the mellower flavors of plum, while cooler temperatures spice up the wine. Shiraz can be made in a fruity style, which many "sweet" wine drinkers enjoy. It can also be made in a dry style. Wines made from shiraz grapes are often powerfully flavored and full bodied.

Peter Lehmann, The Barossa, Shiraz, Australia	16500
Delas, Syrah, Rhone Valley, France	7000
Wolf Blass, Bilyara, Shiraz, Australia	7000

BLENDED AND OTHER VARIETALS

Red wine is blended from different grapes in order to add more complexity to the flavor and texture of a wine. The goal of blending wine is more to balance out characteristics. Alternative blends are an attempt to produce a new and exciting wine that has flavor characteristics like nothing else in the market. Cabernet Sauvignon is an ideal candidate for blending with other grapes. Popular single varietals such as Cabernet Sauvignon, Shiraz, Merlot, Malbec and Sangiovese can either be blended or enjoyed as a single varietal wine.
